

Faculty of Pharmacy

Pharmaceutics IV

Information :

Course Code : PT 606

Level : Undergraduate

Course Hours : 3.00- Hours

Department : Pharm D

Area Of Study :

The course covers the principles and techniques involved in the formulation, and manufacturing of solid dosage forms including powders, granules, tablets and capsules including the modified and controlled release dosage forms. An in-depth study on types, methods of preparation, problems encountered during manufacturing as well as quality control testing will be covered. The course also deals with aerosols and other inhalation products regarding their types, components, preparation, packaging and quality control testing.

Description :

The course covers the principles and techniques involved in the formulation, and manufacturing of solid dosage forms including powders, granules, tablets and capsules including the modified and controlled release dosage forms. An in-depth study on types, methods of preparation, problems encountered during manufacturing as well as quality control testing will be covered. The course also deals with aerosols and other inhalation products regarding their types, components, preparation, packaging and quality control testing.